

The better way to transfer patients.

EZGLIDE® is a latex-free transfer sheet that is essential in reducing the risk of hospital-acquired infection.

Moving patients can be a pain.

Transferring patients from one bed to another is an essential daily task, but that doesn't mean it's easy. Each time, you find yourself wondering if you'll:

- Have time to go find a slide board or hover mat
- Be able to move the patient to a new bed without help
- Injure yourself or the patient
- Have time to properly clean and store the transfer board

You're not alone. At Sloan Medical, we've seen these same issues arise again and again for healthcare workers across the nation. Yet these problems persist year after year with little progress made to alleviate them.

Progress has been made.

Patient transfers will always be part of the job. Making them easier on your team is our job. EZGLIDE® allows you to safely move patients with ease using our sterile, disposable patient transfer sheets.

Superior protection for surgeons, designed by surgeons.

Injury avoidance

Easily and safely transfer patients. Safely move patients with ease using our sterile, disposable single-use patient transfer sheets.

Reduced disease spread

Stop the spread of disease. Minimize disease spread among patients with single-use disposable sheets over multi-use transfer boards.

Additional storage space

Eliminate the need for extra cleaning products that are mandatory for keeping transfer boards in service.

WHY SLOAN MEDICAL

Protecting healthcare professionals for over 30 years.

Guaranteed to keep you safe

We've designed, tested, and continually improved our products to ensure that they do their job—so you feel confident doing yours.

One-size-fits-all reduces inventory

EZGLIDE® follows a patient throughout their admission. This eliminates the need to spend time and effort properly cleaning transfer boards.

Personalized service

No need to demand "representative." Our Midwest based, family-owned company was founded by a urologist who treasures values and personalized service.

Handcrafted in North America

Eliminate overseas delays and keep transfer sheets readily available for your team with products made in North America. Most products ship within 24 hours.
